

There's what Parleys Canyon and Suicide Rock looked like before there were freeways. The road on the right was the main thoroughfare to Park City, unless you took the train, that is.

